The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime to find that his mother has been told about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells the family that Tom will be whipped the next day after school that afternoon and sent to a two-month term of whitewashing. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets Huckleberry Finn, with whom he becomes fast friends. Tom and the new arrival enter a game of hide-and-seek with Becky Thatcher and eventually choose the nursery at the very house.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of suitcase. Tim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his terrors.

Tom comes home at supper and, to his horror, finds that he will have to be skipped school that afternoon and every evening for a week. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom goes out of the house in a drizzling rain. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, he comes across a dandy-looking man and eventually chooses the newcomer as the way home.
